

I received this letter several days after Earl's murder by the Commonwealth of Virginia. He knew he wasn't ever going to be free even if someone had confessed to murdering the Hodges. Too many people's careers were in jeopardy after all the lying and conspiracy convicting him.

The letter had been mangled by one of the post office machines and I got it in an envelope from the post office.

Earl had tried to file his own last appeal. Instead, it was done by Will Lindsey and Jennifer Givens before he could get his filed.

Lindsey and Givens used the same old phony evidence presented at trial and every appeal. They had the new evidence but didn't use it.

Lindsey did his part in murdering Earl Bramblett.

I called Mrs. Dorothy McGee the morning, 6-13-2003, and she said the man in the rusty red truck, she saw coming from the drive the morning of the murders, wore a cap. I asked if it was a baseball cap, she said it wasn't. She said it was a driving cap or a golf cap. She said it was one that had a button on it above the bill where it could be buttoned down. A cloth cap.

I asked if she mentioned this to Barry Keesee, and she said she did. I wanted to make absolutely sure of this and asked a couple more times and she got suspicious and said she imagined she did, must have had to mention it, and other statements hedging her first response.

A cap on the driver was never mentioned in trial. She was quite definite about the truck being a dusty, or rusty, red. She said there were no lights along there until you got under the bridge and into the City of Roanoke where she saw the color in the headlights from her car.

I also asked her if Barry Keesee was her "friend" she had to check with before she talked with me before, and she said it was. However, she then said she didn't remember me calling before.

It was a very informative conversation. She also didn't remember the story about her forgetting her house keys that morning and having to get the spare from the neighbor. Or that making her late to be in front of the Hodges that time of that morning.

Earl Bramblett was murdered by a conspiracy of police and lawyers. That is why Terry Grimes, court appointed lawyer for Bramblett, didn't want me seeing Bramblett's files. I had a notarized Power of Attorney, which I showed him, and gave him a notarized letter from Bramblett to let me inspect the files. These attorneys withheld information that I had a legal right to see and inspect. When I did get to see the files at Will Lindsey's office, all of the discovery material had been withheld or destroyed. Evidence that would prove Doubles and Grimes conspired to never mount a vigorous defense.

I had a team of experts that wanted to see the fire photos but Will Lindsey wouldn't let me make copies for their inspection. Lindsey wouldn't return my calls or from Bramblett's brother. He wouldn't allow files to be copied. This was a conspiracy and they knew illegal .

I have tried to get the files from Lindsey and Givens since the murder of Earl Bramblett. Givens will not answer my emails and getting in touch with Lindsey he gives me a story about having to retain the files. I had called the VA State Bar Association and there is no requirement they keep the files. Jennifer Givens said she was required to keep the files for seven years. Just another lie. Bramblett's brother finally got to copy forty-eight pictures of the fire damage but Lindsey said he was afraid I would put the victims pictures on the Internet.

All the business with the Hodges is over! The crime I am inquiring into is the crime they conspired to kill Earl Bramblett. There is sufficient evidence they did. Will Lindsey told me I had no legal standing with the Power of Attorney since Bramblett was dead. That is the same thing he was saying before Bramblett's murder. He wouldn't give me any of the pictures or files for the experts. He still will not release the files. Lindsey knows he didn't do everything he could do to prolong Bramblett's life. William (Will) H. Lindsey is just another two bit Salem lawyer making a living off other people's misfortunes always taking the easiest way. He did nothing for Bramblett, and he had the information to work with. Crook, liar and scumbag!

There is one thing I learned from this case. None of the lawyers in this case knew anything about law.

Lying seems to be what they they relied on mostly. I always looked up the law or rules before I asked for anything from them. They just spouted off anything that came into their head for an answer.

Will Lindsey and Jennifer Givens are the main offenders of this.

Dear Mr. Lindsey,

When I met you, shortly after you agreed to represent Earl Bramblett as his habeas attorney, I was excited that I had finally met someone that knew the law and knew how to apply the law to finally find justice in Bramblett's case.

Your initial interest in listening to what I had found and giving me free access to the files that were turned over to you furthered that hope and belief. For reasons that should be obvious, I no longer feel as I did. You now seem to be more of an obstructionist than an advocate for Earl.

You know as well as I do that Bramblett did not murder the Hodges. A murder of the magnitude of the Hodges slayings leave evidence that no one, especially someone with Bramblett's propensity to fear the police, could ever cover up. Blood spatter evidence from the gunshots, the smell of kerosene on his person, shoe print evidence, and on and on.

Then there is the discovery evidence that is not in your files. Where are the interviews and police reports? Why didn't you question why these exhibits were not turned over to you with the rest of Bramblett's files? The autopsy reports are minimal, to say the least. Where are the Medical Examiners notes? Everything that shows exculpatory evidence is missing. Doubles and Grimes either didn't have them or they destroyed them. My guess is the latter.

But now, you have become intransigent and even the small things I can accomplish, without the missing files, is jeopardized. With the missing files, even a Doubting Thomas like Turk couldn't overlook Bramblett's innocence.

I surmise you have joined the group that wants to take whatever money the state offers and give as little as possible. In other words, Mac Doubles with a better wardrobe and office. To carry that even further, a lawyer without ethics that a great living, successful practice, and Salem community standing means far more than seeing someone like Earl Bramblett gets justice. Showing what a crook a sitting judge is, when he was the Commonwealth Attorney trying Bramblett, can be hazardous to ones finances and friendships. Showing cops and forensic people as crooks, no problem, but when it comes to lawyers and a judge, well, maybe we should think about that a long time. Long enough for the "problem" to be buried.

I believe absolutely that "what goes around comes around."

There was never a denial of my accusations. He knows he didn't try. He sold Earl out!

Lindsey is just another lying scumbag lawyer in this case.

I asked for Bramblett's files after Bramblett was murdered but Lindsey wouldn't release them. His reason was he was required to keep the files for six years, this was a lie or Lindsey didn't know what he was talking about. I had already checked. There is no law or rule that requires this. Even after Bramblett's death he's still doing everything to conceal the truth and his role in Bramblett's murder.
