

Steamship Cayuga: Toronto's Ship Of Romance Book Excerpt

Cayuga changed my life. In July 1943 The Canada Life Assoc. Co. where I worked hosted a midnight cruise for the airmen stationed in town, for which they received free tickets. He was hungry, broke and lacking anything better to do, strolled over from Exhibition Barracks to check it out. I was there with my friend because my boy friend was caught two-timing me. I wanted to show him I could find a tall, dark handsome airman from the west.....

Betty (Cooper) Gordon

Another Cayuga – In 1895 the Lake Michigan and Lake Superior Transport Company owned a steamship named Cayuga. The Cayuga collided with a steamer named Joseph L. Hurd. On May 10, 1895, Cayuga sank into Lake Michigan.....

Carole M. Lidgold