Hywela Lyn

BIS Author of the Month for October

I live with my long suffering husband, Dave, in a small village in England although I hope eventually to return to my native rural Wales, which inspired so much of my writing. I have two horses, two feral cats and an adopted Jack Russell terrier called Bouncer. I usually manage to sneak some sort of horse or unicorn into my stories.

Although most of my stories tend to be futuristic, the worlds I create are usually untainted by crowded cities and technology, embracing the beauty and wildness of nature. My characters often have to fight the elements and the terrain itself.

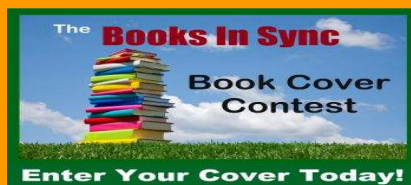

My heroes are strong and courageous, but chivalrous and honorable - and of course, handsome and hunky. My heroines are also strong and courageous, but retain their femininity and charm. Love is a driving feature in my stories. Love, not only between the hero and heroine, but between friends and siblings, and the animals which share their worlds.

Alberta H. Sequeira BIS Author of the Month for November

On June 19, 2009, Alberta's second memoir titled 'Someone Stop This Merry-Go-Round; An Alcoholic Family in Crisis' was published by Infinity Publishing. This story is about her fourteen years of marriage to Richard Lopes. Together they had two beautiful daughters; Debbie and Lori. The memoir starts with her teen years, meeting Richie, and their marriage. Slowly her family life starts moving on a never ending merry-go-round of confusion, fear, broken promises, and drinking abuse. No one could stop the progressive spiral of Richie's into alcoholism. In 1985, at the age of forty-five, he died from this demon.

The sequel to 'Someone Stop This Merry-Go-Round' is titled 'Please God, Not Two; This Killer Called Alcoholism'. Alberta hopes it will be completed sometime this year (2009). It's the continuation of Alberta's family life as they watched Lori (Lopes) Cahill, going down the same path as her father. On November 22, 2006, Lori died from cirrhosis of the liver at the young age of thirty-nine.
